

BOOK EXCHANGE TO START COLLECTION OF TEXTS WEDNESDAY AT 9

Collection of texts to be sold next quarter will be made by the Student Book Exchange beginning Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock at its booth in front of the Morris Dailey auditorium, according to Bruce McClelland, manager of the non-profit organization. The collection will continue until Friday.

Students turning in books to the Exchange put their own prices on them, and if they are sold, the money is collected early next quarter. A service charge of 3 per cent, usually about 5 cents a book, is made. If the books are not sold, there is no charge.

"If a student uses the Exchange," McClelland said, "I can guarantee that he will never go back to any other method of buying and selling books."

George Cole, member of the Freshman Boys club, has volunteered to be a representative to the Exchange, but will be a non-voting member. Other organizations which have representatives in the service group are YWCA, YMCA, Spartan Knights, Spartan Spars, and Alpha Phi Omega.

Reed Ensemble

Makes Tour

The eleven-piece woodwind ensemble, under direction of Thomas E. Eagan, will spend the spring vacation on a tour of Northern California schools and colleges, announces James Adcock, publicity director.

Featured on the program will be a student composition, Orrin Blattner's "American Sketches," written especially for the woodwind ensemble.

Soloists in the group are Ina Mae Spink, who will play a flute solo with ensemble accompaniment; Melvin Buffo, who will play piano concertos; and Corrine Gorham, bassoon, who will play a Mozart concerto.

Those making the tour are Thomas E. Eagan, director; Edith Eagan and Melvin Buffo, oboes; James Adcock and Stanton Selby, clarinets; Ina Mae Spink and Rosalie Woon, flutes; Ralph Bredberg, bass clarinet; Zeannette Copicand Corrine Gorham, bassoons; and John Draper and Ted Wenhimer, horns.

K-P's PRESENT

OPERETTA THIS

MORNING AT 8

Members of the Kindergarten-Primary music class will present an operetta depicting early California life this morning at 8 o'clock in the Little Theater.

The group, which presents an operetta every quarter, wrote the story, songs, and music for the program. The costumes which are needed by the various characters were also made by members of the group.

Those who will take part in the production are Margaret Gregory, Lorraine Pinkert, Betty Sheridan, Fernie Kingsbury, Alice Good, Edna Anderson, Ruth Selstad, Beverly Roberts, Carol Meyers, Sue Nevdeck, Bonnie Jean Staley, Roseanna Clark, Mary Buassand and Stevane Jacks.

General Election To Be Held For Spardi Gras Queen

It was decided that the queen would be chosen at a general election from candidates put up by all the college organizations, at a meeting of the carnival committees last week.

The queen election will be held at least a week before Spardi Gras and if necessary there will be a run off poll, at which time the two runner-ups will be named maids-of-honor.

The queen will choose her king, and for the first time the maids-of-honor will also choose an escort, according to Reed Surber, general chairman.

There will again be the whiskerino contest which will open three weeks before Spardi Gras, and this year prizes will also be awarded for the most unusual beards.

As something new the contest committee is also planning to have a largest foot competition for men only—a contrast to the Cinderella contest for women.

P.E. INSTRUCTOR HEADS COUNTY HEALTH PROGRAM

Miss Evelyn Amaral, instructor in the women's physical education department at San Jose State college was elected president of the Santa Clara County Unit of Health, Physical Education and Recreation at a meeting of the group last week, according to Dr. Irene Palmer, 1940-41 president.

The meeting was held in the Health wing and the group was conducted on a tour by Dr. Bertha Mason, college physician, of the health service facilities offered by the college, prior to the business meeting. Following the election of officers, Mrs. Maude Knapp addressed the group on the dangers of too strenuous physical activities for children immediately following lunch. A discussion of the question followed.

Other officers who were elected are Luell Weed of Stanford, vice-president for physical education; Dr. Lydia Verburg, San Jose City School physician, vice-president for health; Cecil George, administrator of recreation for W.P.A., vice-president for recreation; Dr. Irene Palmer, San Jose State college, secretary; and Constance Arbaugh, San Jose high school, treasurer.

NAME BANDS MAY PLUG REVELRIES SONGS ON NATIONAL NET WORKS

Revelries officials are making arrangements for the production's musical selections to be submitted to "Name" bands and to be played over national radio networks, it was announced Friday.

Students who wish to have their compositions produced in the annual musical comedy are asked to turn them in as soon as possible to either Jack Stewart or Harvey Brooks of the Revelries committee. Definite themes for musical scores will be given to composers.

All songs must be the original work of the student submitting them, it is emphasized.

At present, a 30-piece band is being placed under consideration to play for the show, Brooks states.

Already selection of a chorus is under way. Specific qualifications will be required of all women students applying for places in the chorus.

A general Revelries meeting will be held tomorrow at 4 o'clock. Director Major West, co-authors Kathleen Bearce and Harvey Brooks, and Technician Peter Gilli will be present.

Tryouts for the major roles in the production will be announced at a later date.

The Revelries is an all-college musical production which is produced annually, and has always followed Spardi Gras, the spring carnival.

CLASS OPINION 42-18 AGAINST LEASE-LEND BILL

A student reaction against the proposed "Lease-Lend" bill now before Congress was shown in Claude Settles social problems class yesterday in a test vote when the students voted 42-18 against the measure after stormy arguments on both sides.

The arguments were precipitated when Ruth Evans, former college student and one of the nine California delegates to the Town Hall Meeting of Youth sponsored by the American Youth Congress in Washington D. C. last month, told the class of her trip.

Miss Evans told of the convention's aims, and how she attempted to lobby against the Lease-Lend bill. She claimed that mail received by Congressmen was 80 to 85 per cent against the measure, but the legislators were disregarding the wishes of the people.

Some of the class members objected and a test vote was taken to indicate student ideas on the subject, with the results shown. A previous vote taken in another of Mr. Settles' classes was much closer with a 16-15 favoring the bill.

Election Of Spring Quarter Class Heads Set For Second Week In Term

Election of class officers for the Spring quarter will be held the second week of next quarter, Student Body President Bob Payne announced yesterday.

A nomination assembly to name candidates for office will be held Monday, March 31. Primary election will be held the following Wednesday. In case of tie votes or in the event that a candidate does not receive a simple majority of all the ballots cast for a particular

STATE, U.S.F. HEADS FAIL TO AGREE; TILT CALLED OFF

Coach Ben Winkelman revealed the fact on Saturday that all negotiations to find a suitable date for the 1941 football game with the University of San Francisco have fallen through and the tilt has been cancelled.

USF had the date originally set for September 12 in the Spartan stadium, but were forced to drop the game Friday at the San Francisco conference in order to comply with Pacific Coast conference rules.

While greatly disappointed over the failure to reach an agreement with Don officials, Winkelman indicated that another Texas team would be sought to fill that September 12 date.

With Texas A & I scheduled to appear here on September 19, Winkelman feels that another eleven from the Lone Star State would be a good drawing attraction.

Winkelman also revealed Saturday that San Jose turned down an offer to play Gonzaga up north on November 28. Bad weather in Spokane at that time of year was given as the reason for not accepting the game.

The breaking off of relations for 1941 will not effect the future, stated Winkelman for already a new contract for 1942 is slated between the two colleges.

Students Visit Radio Station

Watching the production of "Unlimited Horizons," a student-produced program at Station KGO, was the highlight of a field trip to San Francisco made by members of Mrs. Florence Bryant's radio writing class and Ray Irwin's radio speaking class, last Friday afternoon.

A tour of the station was made before the program to acquaint the students with the routine of a radio station.

Congratulations In Order

Congratulations are in order to Ben Bramble, college physical education major who recently released his book on the history of boxing at San Jose State college.

The book, containing 67 pages is a complete written and pictorial history of the sport at the college, from 1934 to 1941. Bramble edited, compiled and published the material at his own expense.

He has been working on the project since Fall and found it necessary to delve through old school records and papers for his materials. This is probably the most comprehensive history of boxing ever published for

Of True Benefit

Often students are inclined to feel that a college is just a hard-hearted institution which does its best to keep them out of it, either by refusing to let them enter in the first place or by "flunking" them out at the end of the first quarter. This may be true of some institutions but it certainly can't be said of San Jose State for this college does its best to aid students to stay if there is the slightest possibility that they are worth helping.

One way in which students are aided is by the California Congress of Parents and Teachers loan fund. Through this fund loans any institution in the United States.

Varsity members of the 1941 squad are included with their pictures obtained from the College news bureau. All other pictures and expenses were paid for by Bramble. A tremendous amount of time and labor was necessary to produce the work, and the returns will probably never reach the investment.

So congratulations to Coach DeWitt Portal and the Physical Education department for the course that inspires such an effort on the part of students. And congratulations to Ben Bramble, a real Spartan. —Lacy.

not exceeding 150 are granted to upper-class students who have proved themselves deserving of such a loan.

The student may repay the money he borrows any time within three years after he secures a position, so he need not feel that he is accepting charity.

Funds such as this are truly of benefit to college students. They give the students an opportunity to secure the needed money and those who take advantage of this offer are only too glad to repay the fund when they are on their own, and the success they make of their lives is the interest that the investment pays. —Irwin.

CONTRIBUTOR'S COLUMN

Thrust and Parry

It Is Not Aphalting

Dear Trust and Parry:

Wednesday's assembly, Perry says, was a thorough success. I agree with him. The getting together of all students and their student officers, the presentation of all others who make the college wheels go round gives a co-ordinating, a binding effect which is badly lacking here. We used to lament the apathy of students, but we did not dig at its roots. At last, somebody or some group has stirred the fire of student enthusiasm, and whether it is the Freshmen-Sophomore rivalry that did it, it is hard to say for the Council and Student President Payne are active themselves. And please do not wait another nine years before we have another assembly; I may not be here that long.

An assembly at the beginning of the Fall Term would create college spirit from the start, and would liven class elections.

Mr. Pitman ably represented the Administration. However, I was disappointed at the failure, of whoever was responsible, to bring our own Dr. MacQuarrie to the assembly. His appearance even for a few minutes would have made me feel that my College President and I tread on common grounds.

Nothing Sacred

THE LAST-MINUTE decision of the Social Affairs Committee to call off the student body dance Friday night put a crimp in my plans for the evening; and I wasn't the only one. The majority of the students in the school look forward to these affairs, not necessarily because they are free but because they give us a chance to wear our school clothes, let our hair down and have a good time.

This may be a poor man's school, but an ambitious escort can still manage to find a dollar or so to buy into a fraternity dance, and a shirt can always be given a little elbow grease and made presentable. It ain't the investment, in the long run; it's the upkeep.

The only thing any of us want out of a dance is a good time. If your partner is dull, you can get another (to be brutally frank); if the music is sloppy, you can whistle your own; if you're tired, you can go to sleep and let the crowd shove you around. But if the laws governing the particular affair have been laid down by tradition and precedent, or by Emily Post, or by the very nature of the stiff shirt you're wearing, then the whole dance is apt to have a depressing effect, particularly when compared to one of the free-for-all that need only a student body card, a girl, and carefare.

No one person was to blame for the slip-up Friday night, so there can be none of those don't-let-it-happen-again looks cast about. The important thing is that it caused a minor tragedy in the general plan of things for the week-end, and made everyone more conscious of the part that these student body dances play.

Fred Lindsay Smashes Two Homers As Spartans Lose Two To Fresno State

San Jose's varsity baseball nine lost two close games to Fresno State college in CCAA openers in Fresno over the weekend.

The Spartans dropped Friday's game, 4-3, and lost the Saturday game, 4-2.

In Friday's game the Spartans lost a heart breaker. Leading 3-2 going into the ninth inning, two questionable decisions by the umpires led to San Jose's downfall.

Poore reached first for Fresno on an error, the decision being a close one for the ump to call.

Bachtelle, Fresno right fielder, who also pitched the second Fresno victory on Saturday, then connected with a long drive over the right fielder's head, going all the way home with the winning run behind Poore.

Bachtelle was forced to slide at the plate into the waiting arms of Catcher Lou Ales. The play was another close one with the umpire ruling Bachtelle safe.

Big Freddie Lindsay, Spartan right fielder, kept San Jose in the ball game with two tremendous home runs. His first homer, a 410 foot drive into deep center field, came in the second inning to tie up the ball game at one all.

His second smash, over the left field wall in the sixth inning put the Spartans ahead 3-2, after Bill Duran singled and scored on a hit by Ralph Sandborn.

The game was a tough one for Pitcher Pete Filice to lose. Filice kept nine hits well scattered, but four Spartan errors didn't help.

In Saturday's game the Bulldogs held on to a 4-0 lead until the ninth inning, Ben Frizzi opened the final frame with a single, Lindsay walked, and Gil Bennett drilled a single to center, scoring Frizzi.

Lindsay scored a moment later on Tormina's fielder's choice.

Tony Nasimento, starting Spartan hurler, was given poor support by his mates who contributed seven errors.

ATHENS MERMEN BOW TO WALKERMEN 63-10

Taking the measure of the Athens club mermen by a 63-10 score, Coach Charley Walker's varsity swimmers showed its power last Friday night in the local pool, proving they will be a strong defender of the 1941 CCAA title.

Led by the medley relay team composed of Marty Taylor, Dean "Diz" Foster, and Foster Dockstader, who set a new school record of 3:11.6, surpassing the old mark held by Wathen, Hatch, and Curran of 3:12.3, the Walkermen went to the front in the first event and were never in danger.

FOSTER UNDEFEATED

Foster captured the breaststroke event to remain undefeated in the five duel meets the Spartans have had. Due to the illness of Allan Weeden, Senior men's champion backstroke for the Athens club, Marty Taylor and Jack Porter had little trouble in defeating the younger Weeden.

Foster Dockstader, sprint man for the Spartans, anchored both relay teams and swam the fastest time of any sprinter this year to make possible the new record.

Olympic Club Plays Spartans In Aud. Tonight

The mighty Olympic Club basketball team, paced by All-American Hank Luisetti, will face Coach Walt McPherson's Spartan quintet tonight in the Civic Auditorium, with the game slated to get under way promptly at 8 p.m.

The San Jose State freshmen will play a preliminary game starting at 6:30.

The bringing of the Olympic Club to San Jose for the second time this season was made possible, when the Club team defeated the Italian Athletic Club in two straight games last week for the right to represent the Pacific Coast in the A.A.U. tournament at Denver, March 16.

Coach McPherson has kept his CCAA co-champions under light practice pending the outcome of the tourney and his cagers will be in good condition to face the powerful Olympic Club team tonight.

Knowing that if he wants to upset the club team he must stop Luisetti, McPherson has designated John Allen, San Jose's brilliant guard, as the man to guard Luisetti tonight.

"Toddy" Giannini, former Santa Clara star, at forward, Arv Hedman at center, and Kenny Meitz and Swede Anderson at the guards will make up the club lineup.

According to Director of Athletics Tiny Hartranft, San Jose students will be charged 26 cents for admission.

BOXERS TIE CAL AGGIES AT DAVIS SATURDAY

The San Jose Spartans and California Aggies split their claims to the mythical California intercollegiate boxing championship Saturday night at Davis as the two teams battled to a 4½-4½ tie.

With the Spartans trailing going into the last match, Jack Kemper, undefeated heavyweight for San Jose, scored a TKO in the second round over his Aggie rival to tie up the score. Kemper's victory runs his string to three straight.

The Spartan comeback to gain a tie over their heavily-favored rivals leaves them still undefeated this year, although they have yet to win a dual meet. In previous meets San Jose tied Idaho and Oregon State by scores of 4-4.

At 145 pounds, PCI titleholder Elton Tobiasson scored a close decision win over tough Mark Guerra of the Spartans.

Bout summary:

Matmen Score Double Victory; Boxers Lose

Coach Sam Della Maggiore's mighty freshman and varsity wrestling teams turned on the heat Friday night to easily win their respective meets with San Francisco State and the University of Nevada. In a boxing preliminary Coach DeWitt Portal's freshman team failed to fare so well, dropping a close 5-4 meet to San Francisco Junior college.

The Nevada Wolves were no match for the Spartan varsity in the top event. Della Maggiore's crew won falls in every division except the 135 pound class where Far Western champion Ivan Olsen was held to a decision by Bill Latin of Nevada.

The freshmen almost made it a clean sweep against the San Francisco State team only dropping one match. Ed Rothwell was the only Spartlet loser being pinned in 7:30 of his 128 pound bout with Yamada. Rothwell had a clear margin (Continued on Page 4)

'MARGIN FOR ERROR' --- 'SCRAPEGOAT' PRACTICE LASHED IN NAZI SATIRE

By IRENE MELTON

Jonathan Swift, long ago in his "Gulliver's Travels", realized that one of the best ways to show people their follies was to satirize their foolish foibles and institutions in startlingly brutal literary fashion.

Clare Boothe is not as bitter as Swift. There are those who will say this is because she is a woman, and women are tender-hearted creatures who find it easier to forgive than to hold for justice and fair play.

DEEPER MEANINGS

Despite this belief, there was bitter sarcasm underlying every funny line in the dialogue of "Margin For Error". Every witticism had a deeper, more fundamental interpretation than that which lay so lightly on the surface.

'SCRAPEGOAT'

Here we find Miss Boothe's barbed pen employed magnificently to present a most topical and pertinent interpretation of the age-old "scapegoat" theme. Only from a pen dipped in vitriol could drip such biting invective of the age-old practice of pinning the blame for our misdeeds on a weaker, insignificant individual who is in no position to fight against cruelty and injustice.

Frank Soares as Karl Baumer, the unscrupulous German consul, contributed a performance that would have done credit to any professional, his poise and complete self-mastery dominating every scene in which he appeared.

SKILLFUL ACCENT

Not the least creditable of Baumer's suavely delineated villain was the skillful linguistic interpretation of his part. The result was brilliant achievement of that accent peculiar to the foreign-born, those who never really conquer our language but still say "dat" for "that" and "vass" for "was".

In contrast to the domineering

Nazi is the policeman, Moe Finklestein, so bitterly resented by Baumer. Who would ever think that the "Mayor's nasty joke" would almost result in a tragedy, and that one of the Jewish policemen sent to guard the German consulate would be brought under suspicion of murdering the consul?

Ed Soares was a wholly convincing and sincere Officer Finklestein. Frequent naturally free gestures, typically Jewish, more than offset the occasional too-rapid delivery of lines. It is fortunate that there were so many good "gags" that the loss of a few were comparatively unnoticed.

A depth of quiet maturity and poise was evident in the performance of Barbara Lee Bellah, who appeared as the long-suffering Sophie, Baumer's wife, another victim of her husband's ruthlessness.
